DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1,4 rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 27-28 of U.S. Patent No. 6,699,217. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because U.S. Patent 6,699,217 does not claim a shield with a forward and rearward portion wherein the rearward portion is cross-sectionally larger than the forward portion. The limitation of a forward and rearward portion of the shield is such a basic/generic referencing of parts to describe structural location to each other, it is considered to be an inherent part of the shield. (i.e. that there is a forward and rearward portion). However, one ordinarily skilled in the shielding medical arts would perceive this minimal limitation to be inherent if not obvious to any element. Further, it would have obvious to one of ordinary skill in the shielding medical arts that the forward or distal portion would enclose the needle and the rearward or proximal portion would enclose the hub. With respect to the rearward portion having a cross section larger the forward portion, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the shielding medical arts to design the rearward portion that is enclosing the hub to be larger than the forward portion enclosing portion of the needle since the cross section of the needle is substantially consistently smaller than the hub portion. Further, this would have been an obvious design choice to alter the sizes of the elements.
